Yü Group Plc

60% organic growth

Energy prices have normalised and their drag effect on interim revenues (+60% YoY) and reported bookings should wash through going forward. This should help Yu Group report much stronger metrics in H2E and our implied second half sequential revenue growth forecast of +13% feels cautious. The valuation of the stock is materially below fair value. We retain our Buy recommendation and 2100p price target.

Interim results – key points:

- 60% organic growth. Revenues grew 60% YoY to £312.7m. Underlying volumes of energy sold grew 110% YoY despite the warm spring which dampened demand. Supplied meter points rose 82% YoY to 72.3m. The return of energy prices to pre-Covid levels led average pricing to decline 25% to £297 per MWh over this period, partly offsetting the volume gain.
- Lower prices washing through. Average monthly bookings of new business softened 9% YoY to £46.9m reflecting the same movement in pricing. Lower variable tariffs for out-of-contract customers (c10% revenues) and higher industry specific costs for distribution and generation softened gross margins (-350bp to 13.7%). The impact of smart meter deployments, together with good credit control, has been responsible for a much lower provision charge for bad debtors of 2% (H1 2023: 4.1%). Net of these charges, net customer contribution margin fell only 140bp to 11.7%.
- +49% ad. EBITDA. Adjusted EBITDA growth of 49% YoY to £20.4m, a net working capital inflow of £2.1m and the £49.8m working capital release from SmartestEnergy contributed to an operating cash inflow of £68.3m (+265% YoY). Net cash ended the half year at £59.4m and material rise in the interim dividend to 19p reflects the strength of the balance sheet.

Trading forecasts unchanged

We adjust our forecasts for non-trading items only: i) an advance payment of £9m for a Renewables Obligation Certificate, ii) higher capex on smart meters (+£2.5m to £5.5m), and iii) dividend upgrade (FY24E: +35% to 57p). Our FY24E adjusted EBITDA forecast of £44.1m is unchanged but net cash reduces to £80.5m in light of the above changes.

Outlook

With prices stabilising, and the prospect of rising prices through H2E, monthly bookings value is likely to revert into positive growth YoY. Smart meter rollouts are accelerating with 9k smart meters installed in H1A (+125% YoY). The estate of smart meters is now producing a very high quality, index-linked annualised recurring income stream of £0.6m. Yu Group has booked £945m of contracted income that will be recognised over the next four years (+70% YoY) Of this, £417m will be recognised over the next financial year and will build for the rest of FY24E. A stated target of 100k meters in FY25E could produce over £800m of revenue based on this year's run rate metrics. Our FY24E revenue forecast of £668m implies sequential growth of 13% which feels cautious in light of recent performance metrics. With the stock trading on FY24E EV/adj. EBITDA of 4.0x and p/e of 7.9x, a very material discount to the UK market on 14.6x, we continue to rate the stock as Buy. Our 2100p price target values the stock on 6x FY24E adj. EBITDA.
